Subject: vs. Microsoft

Dear Sirs:

I am writing to notify you of my support for continued prosecution of Microsoft, in order that they may be more heavily censured. At the least I hope they are pressured to reduce their heavy-handedness, and at the best I hope they are restricted from their monopolistic practices. I am disturbed by Microsoft's behavior, and consider it to fit under the definition of racketeering in many cases. I applaud your efforts to investigate this matter and to protect the consumer. Please continue pressing for more severe penalties for Microsoft in order that the consumer and marketplace can benefit.

I am a U.S. citizen, but although I currently reside outside of the United States, I believe that this issue has a worldwide effect.

Sincerely,
David Maxwell
